Theories and Concepts in Traffic Safety

18th ICTCT -Workshop Helsinki, Finland

27th October – 28th October 2005

on

Transport telematics and safety

Technical, social and psychological aspects

Registration & Information

This workshop is prepared in close co-operation with VTT Building and Transport and Ministry of Transport, Finnish Traffic Safety Organisation, Road Administration and Road Enterprise.

Transport telematics applications or Intelligent Transport Systems and Services (ITS) are deployed in accelerated manner in vehicles and transport infrastructure. Many ITS applications are planned to increase safety whereas many have had safety impacts unforeseen by their planners or providers. The ICTCT workshop gathers decision-makers, practitioners and researchers to present examples and discuss the technical, social and psychological aspects of ITS with regard to their relationship to safety in a comprehensive way. Not least, the safety evaluation of ITS services and ways of promotion of best practices in designing and deploying ITS will be dealt with. About 25 oral and ten poster presentations are given within the following sessions:

- Theories and concepts
- Methodological issues
- In-vehicle based IT – general
- In-vehicle based IT – ISA
- Infrastructure based IT
- Road safety issues

The 18th ICTCT workshop offers a multidisciplinary forum for lively discussion among international experts in an open-minded and friendly atmosphere.
